

Qualified Sampling Technician Certificate

This NORMI™ Qualified Sampling Technician has attended the QST training and learned the sampling techniques required to perform air and surface sampling, in a limited capacity, for the purpose of completing the NORMI™ IAQ Management Program for potential clients. This individual understands the limitations of such sampling and will, when necessary, suggest more extensive sampling when appropriate and when the client requires more information than the NORMI™ IAQ Management program can provide. This certificate is presented to the bearer after said candidate has evidenced a clear understanding of the guidelines governing its use.
